

As a working flight attendant i'am not in favor of letting customers use cell phones in flight, I can give you a 100 reasons why it should 'not' be allowed, but the first and most it will be a safety issue aboard the aircraft and second most disrupted to other passengers, after turning off the runway I can see its okay and have some control aboard the aircraft. If this is passed there will be much confusion with crew members or customers. It will only make our work that much harder and the more control you take away from the crew and give to the passengers will only make more stress for others. thankyou for your attention.
